Its Path to Success

The scope of the exhibit

is to demonstrate the idea, principles and activities of Scouting and its development from Baden-Powell's Scheme to today's world wide movement.

Thematic development

Scouting is a well-known theme; this exhibit demonstrates a novel approach as well as applying the material in a new way, utilising the thematic information to its full extent. The most appropriate items are chosen, showing the connection between width and depth in the elaboration of the theme. Personal studies have resulted in new material being included.

Philatelic importance

A wide range of philatelic material is shown. Priority is given to highest philatelic importance: world class philatelic items (original artwork, essays, proofs and varieties); important postal history items (covers and other postal documents). Philatelic studies are included when appropriate, and are blended with the thematic development.

The presentation

of the exhibit is also part of the development and treatment. The thematic text connects and explains the thematic qualification of the items and gives appropriate thematic information.

- This font is used for thematic text.
- This font is used for philatelic text.
- This font for important philatelic information.

Recent development

The exhibit is continuously being developed and strengthened. Recent important new items include all plates of the 1900 Mafeking siege 1d stamp unused, all positions of the 1900 Mafeking 3d cracked plate, the 1918 Czech Masaryk telegram, a cover from the 1933 Chaco War Scout mail delivery service, the famous 1944 Poland 'Potato' postmark and Australia, Austria & Netherlands Indies proofs.

The most important items include:

- 1.1 Mafeking 1900 postage stamps, including varieties and covers. One of only four recorded first day on cover usages of the narrow format Baden-Powell stamp.
- 1.1 Free postage certified by Major-General Baden-Powell in South Africa 1900.
- 1.1 Severely burnt cover franked with a World Scout Jamboree stamp, and salvaged from the 1937 Hindenburg airship accident.

Original artwork for the 1982 Great Britain Boy Scout stamp, in pencil and water-colour, close to the final and accepted design. Signed by the stamp artist, Brian Sanders. Unique.

- 3.3 Siam 1920 Scouts' Fund overprints; postage stamps, covers and postal cards.
- 4.1 1c Washington vertical perforations 14, used exclusively by the Boy Scouts of America N.Y. executive council in 1922.
- 6.2 The only recorded cover with the official postal wax seal from the 1928 national Scout camp, Norway.
- 7.2 Chaco War, Scout Mail Delivery Service in the war zone, Paraguay, 1933.

- 7.2 Czechoslovak independence 1918; stamps, covers and postal card from the Scout Mail Delivery Service, including a telegram franked with a Masaryk overprinted stamp.
- 7.2 Poland Warsaw uprising 1944 - Scout Mail Delivery Service; several items including a card with the elusive 'potato' postmark.
- 7.2 Shanghai Emergency Postal Service, Scout Mail Delivery Service which operated during the 1932 six-day postal strike.

NOTICE.

THE new issue of stamp bearing the Colonel's photograph, will be produced on Monday, the 9th instant. These stamps can only be issued on production of letter addressed locally (Mafeking or forts). No person can for the present be allowed to hand to the officer in charge of Siege Post Office more than one letter per diem.

Postmaster.

Mafeking,
April 7th, 1900.

"THE MAFEKING MAIL", Special Siege Slip No. 112, of Saturday April 7th 1900, announced the new stamp issue. Note the limitation of one letter per person per day.

During the siege there became shortage of postage stamps. 1d and 3d stamps were produced locally by a photographic ferro-prussiate blue-print method. The stamps were only intended for local usage within the besieged Mafeking.

Cover cancelled "MAFEKING AP 9 1900", official first day of issue for the small format Baden-Powell stamp. Only four covers are recorded from this date. Three pence rate for covers between Mafeking town and the outlying forts and outposts. The Railway Camp was located on the edge of the town, in siege postal zone 1 (Brickfields). The addressee, W.A. Hayes, was principal medical officer on Baden-Powell's staff, and he was the designer of the Warner Goodyear cyclist stamp.

After the siege, when Baden-Powell wrote his "Scouting for Boys", and planned his first experimental Boy Scout camp at Brownsea Island, he recognised the value of the duties and effort of the Mafeking Cadet Corps.

Baden-Powell's small force resisted an army at least three times more numerous, thus enabling the main body of the British troops to regroup for a counter-attack. Mafeking was relieved after a siege of 217 days.

After the relief of Mafeking, Robert S. S. Baden-Bowell was raised to the rank of Major-General, and found himself a hero in the eyes of his countrymen.

Scouting existed before "Boy Scouts", and the term "Scout" was used for watching, discovering, spying, reconnoitring etc. Army and naval scouts were well known to the high-ranked officer Baden-Powell.

After returning from Mafeking, Baden-Powell wanted to help the boys of his country to grow into strong manhood. He studied training of boys through all ages, and added his own experiences from India and South Africa. Baden-Powell wanted to ensure that his Scouting idea would work, and decided to try his idea in practice.

In the summer of 1907, at the age of 50 years, he took a group of 21 boys with him to Brownsea Island, near Poole, Dorset, for the first ever Boy Scouts Camp. The camp was a great success.

1.1 A Man, a Book, an Island – The Hero of Mafeking returns to civilian life and conducts an experiment

As models for the Boy Scouts, Baden-Powell referred to frontiersmen and explorers, the Knights of King Arthur, Crusaders and ancient gods, all showing qualities worthy of carrying on.

The Greek god Hermes was the messenger god. He was a pathfinder to unknown places and was always ready to help. These attributes represented what a Boy Scout should be.

Three plates were used for the printing of the 12½c Jamboree stamp, shown here is etching (plate) number 568.

The zeppelin LZ 129 'Hindenburg' left Frankfurt am Main, Germany on 3 May on her first North America flight for 1937. The largest aircraft ever was 804 feet long and filled with 7 million cubic feet (200,000 m<sup>3</sup>) of highly flammable hydrogen.

At Lakehurst, New Jersey, cameramen and reporters waited for her arrival and recorded one of the most famous disasters in history. On landing at Lakehurst on 6 May 1937 the airship burst into flames and was destroyed in about 34 seconds. 13 passengers, 22 crew members and one ground crew died. 61 passengers and crew members were lucky to survive.

Of the 17,609 pieces of mail on board, only 357 pieces were salvaged in a burned condition. These were forwarded to the Foreign Airmail Division in New York who sent the 147 covers addressed to persons in the U.S.A. to the addressees Postmaster with a request to secure a registered receipt.

Cover sent from Rotterdam, the Netherlands, to G. Thoolen, Wooster, (Ohio, U.S.A.), franked with a 12½c Jamboree stamp, one of only 23 salvaged covers with Dutch franking.

Lord and Lady Baden-Powell travelled extensively in their roles as Chief Scout and Chief Guide, and in this way they both supported the world-wide Scouting movement. Baden-Powell continued to write throughout his life, and issued more than 50 books.

Lord Baden-Powell chose Africa for his retirement. He and his wife and Chief Guide Olave Baden-Powell retreated in 1938 to the town of Nyeri in Kenya, for a few years' peace. On 8 January 1941, B-P died at Paxtu at the age of 83.

He was buried on the slopes below Mount Kenya. Lady Baden-Powell's ashes are beside him. His headstone shows the simple Scout sign for "Gone Home".

The Victorian era was a time of little organised leisure activities for the general public. To a large extent, this was due to most people not having surplus of time and did not have money to spend on such activities.

*1898 postal stationery card from Bavaria, postmarked Munich 10 SEP 1898, sent to Kitzingen am Main.
The postal stationery card commemorates the exhibition for industrial machines in Munich, 1898.*

The industrial revolution brought a change to people's life. More and more people gradually got more spare time, and were soon searching for activities to fill this void.

Also children and young people saw a change, from long working days, to days with more leisure time.

1.2 ... which is an immediate success, the seed planted on Brownsea Island takes root and spreads worldwide

1910 postal stationery card from Bavaria, commemorating sports events in connection with the October Festival.

The popularity of sporting events increased dramatically. The number of sportsmen and athletes was still low, so this was a passive watching activity for the general public.

In an effort to increase Postal Department income, in 1895 for Pd 950, the Postmaster General of Victoria sold a three year postcard advertising contract to a tobacco manufacturer in Melbourne. The advertising choice of Foster's Lager and Havelock Tobacco outraged conservative and temperate population of Melbourne, and this forced the PO to withdraw the cards and revoke the advertising contract. 425,000 cards were printed by Victorian Government Printer. The cards were issued statewide on 1st November 1895 and withdrawn from sale on 19th of same month, however, the cards were still valid for usage. Sales in this period were 84,960 units. Commercially used card sent to Melbourne, barred numeral postmark '699' from Coongulmerang (from 1900 renamed Lindenow), also c.d.s. 'COONGULMERANG VICTORIA 21 NO 95'; two days after withdrawal from sale. The heading underlining is Type B (occupies seven positions on the 25-on plate).

There was a clear risk, and tendency, that more time and money spent on passive leisure activities were leading to un-healthy habits, like tobacco smoking and use of alcohol. Baden-Powell, on his return from Africa, saw this, and he wanted to give young people the opportunity to partake directly in activities themselves, and not just being spectators. In order to succeed, such activities had to be fun as well as affordable.

The Scout uniform disregards the differences of class, country, race and creed.

2.1 The Scout Uniform creates an identity and constitutes a bond of brotherhood across borders

Baden-Powell's design of the Boy Scout uniform was strongly inspired by his own experience in military uniforms. The uniform should be practical and comfortable for its user, and it should not be expensive.

The slogan shows broken letter in VII in "PRAHA 28.VI.-4.VII.1931". The broken letter is recorded from 20 June.

Baden-Powell had used the broad-brimmed khaki hat for the first time during the 1895 Ashanti campaign in Gold Coast, West Africa. The Scout scarf, or neckerchief, he used in 1897 in Matabeleland as a 'grey coloured handkerchief loosely tied round the neck to prevent sunburn'.

Sheet margin inscription reads "1st National Boy Scout Jamboree".

He chose the flannel shirt for the South African Constabulary which he organised in 1900. He told his men to roll up their sleeves to show that they "were prepared".

THE LITTLE SCOUTS

The Scout Uniform is a hardy set of clothing, but there is a limit to what it can withstand!

2.1 The Scout Uniform creates an identity and constitutes a bond of brotherhood across borders

A Girl Guide is easily recognised in her uniform!

As their uniform, the Girl Guides wear a skirt and blouse, or shirt and shorts.

Printing error "1357" for "1857", position no. 48 in each sheet. The error stamps were obliterated with two cancel bars and a punched hole, and they were supposed to be removed from the sheets prior to sale of the stamps.

Mirror print (abklatsch).

Girl Guides also wear a hat, and a neckerchief folded into a triangle with the point at the back of the neck.

The neckerchief is either knotted at the throat, or is fastened with a "woggle", which is some form of ring made of cord, metal or bone.

After the investiture (becoming a Scout), the Tenderfoot Scout can earn progressive awards, or ranks, by completing programmes of training activities. Rank and proficiency badges are worn on the uniform.

While working on the Scout progressive awards training scheme, a Scout may also gain proficiency badges. These allow Scouts to demonstrate individual skills etc.

Many proficiency badges are the same for Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, but there are also badges that vary according to sex.

The Boy Scout Badge is the Fleur-de-Lys symbol of the northern hemisphere on maritime charts – the famous North that must never be lost. The Fleur-de-Lys is also an old French and Italian Royal symbol.

Domestic prepaid letter sent from St. Sebastian près St. Benoit-du-Sault (France), 9 January 1787, via Argenton to Paris. Manuscript "7" (reverse) denotes prepaid postage 7 sols. The postage rate from 1759 was 7 sols (=3.5 decimes) for a letter up to 1/4 ounce, at a distance of 60-80 lieus (273-364 km). The Argenton transit cancel was in use from 1778 to 1787. The Fleur-de-Lys cancel was struck at "La Grande Poste" in Paris. "P.P." confirms that the postage was paid by the sender. The Fleur-de-Lys was a Royal symbol, and this cancel was not used after the revolution in 1789.

The Fleur-de-Lys was chosen as the Boy Scout Badge because it points in the right direction, and upwards.

Domestic unpaid letter dated "14 janvier 1815", at 4 decimes rate from "78 ANTIBES" (France) sent to Aix. The Fleur-de-Lys cancel is applied on arrival at Aix-en-Provence.

2.2 ... the Scout and Guide Emblems, Salute and Handshake are Scouting's unifying symbols

Inverted date in postmark from the YMCA Boy Scout camp at Sunne, Sweden 1934.

The Boy Scout Badge shows the Scout the way to do his duty and to help others.

The three points of it remind the Scout of the three points in the Scout Promise.

The rope, holding the three parts of the Scout badge together, is a symbol of unity: It symbolises the international brotherhood of Scouting, which unifies all the world's Scouts.

Letter from Piacenza (Parma) to Milan, 1853.

This badge now symbolises Scouting all over the world.

The Scout Badge is one of the most widely spread symbols.
All members of the Movement wear it, in one form or another.

Above: Facsimile from the Norwegian Postal Museum showing a 'National Camp at Mandal 1932' postmark with an asterisk at bottom, engraved 6 June (erroneous month in postmark). It was not approved, and in the 10 June re-engraving the asterisk was substituted by a small Boy Scout Badge, probably in order to visualise that this was a Boy Scout camp.

Right: Engraver's proof of the re-engraved postmark. Unique.

The origin of the left handshake is from Ashanti, West Africa, where warriors carried their shields on the left arm. When dropping the shield and advancing unprotected, they were holding out their left hands in trust and friendship.

3 The Spirit of Scouting is well received, and the community embraces Scouting
3.1 The Law, Promise and Motto represent core Scouting Values

The Scout Law contains the rules which apply to Boy Scouts all over the world, and which the Scout promises to obey when being enrolled as a Scout. The Scout Law has 10 sections.

Section 2: "A Scout is loyal to his Country...", and Section 3: "A Scout's duty is to be useful and to help others." The Czechoslovakian Boy Scouts organised a mail delivery service during the revolution days in Prague, 1918.

3.1 The Law, Promise and Motto represent core Scouting Values

The Scout Law has the same meaning all over the world, and is the basis for all Scouting.

The Scout Law has varied over time, and varies slightly from one country to another, as does its number of sections. Section 1: "A Scout is to be trusted". Baden-Powell writes in Scouting for Boys: "If a Scout says "On my honour it is so", that means that it is so, just as if he had made a most solemn promise."

Section 6: "A Scout is kind to animals".

The Scout Promise:

On my honour, I promise that I will do my best

1. To do my duty to God and my Country;
2. To help other people at all times;
3. To obey the Scout Law.

3.1 The Law, Promise and Motto represent core Scouting Values

"Good Turn" is a familiar trait of Scouting in the mind of the public. It is a simple way of putting into practice the ideal of service to others which the Movement tries to promote, by helping somebody every day.

From the Scout Promise: "To help other people at all times.". From the Scouts Law as written by Baden-Powell in 1908: "A Scout's duty is to be useful and to help others.... And he must do a good turn to somebody every day."

The Peruvian Boy Scout organisation enjoyed a free postage privilege from 1932 and onwards.

"Good Turn" is a phrase which symbolises the service given by all members of the Movement. The youngest Scouts will think of ways in which they can do a good turn every day. The older Scouts develop this feature into Service Projects at local, national and international level.

3.1 The Law, Promise and Motto represent core Scouting Values

From the second point of the Scout Promise, there is a clear line to the Motto. The Scout Motto is “Be Prepared”, which means that the Scout is always in a state of readiness, in mind and body, to do his duty. The Motto matches Baden-Powell’s initials, and is another unifying link for the Scouts.

3.2 ... St. George is the Patron Saint of Scouting exemplifying the virtues of a Good Scout

Domestic unpaid letter from St. Georges, France to Nantes, dated "8 8bre 1824". The cancel "47 S<sup>t</sup> GEORGES" was used between 1811 and 1831. Postage 3 decimes to pay for the receiver.

Scouts all over the world celebrate St. George's Day on 23 April. On that day all Scouts make a point of thinking about the Promise and the Scout Law. Just like St. George, the Scouts of today fight against all evil and unclean.

Specimen overprint.

Baden-Powell designated St. George the Patron of all Scouts because the martyred Saint represented everything that a Scout should be.

3.2 ... St. George is the Patron Saint of Scouting exemplifying the virtues of a Good Scout

Domestic letter from Delaware to Pennsylvania, manuscript cancellation "St. George's, Del., March 2, 1833". 10 cents zone rate for single letters sent 30 to 80 miles, valid from 1816 to 1845.

George, born in Cappadocia, Asia Minor, was a cavalry officer in the army of the Roman Emperor Diocletian. George, being a keen Christian, was put to death on 23 April, 303, after trying to stop Diocletian's persecution against the Christians. In 494, he was canonized by Pope Gelasius.

According to the legend, the knight George engaged and killed a dragon that had been terrorizing a small town. George killed the dragon when the turn had come to the King's daughter to be sacrificed.

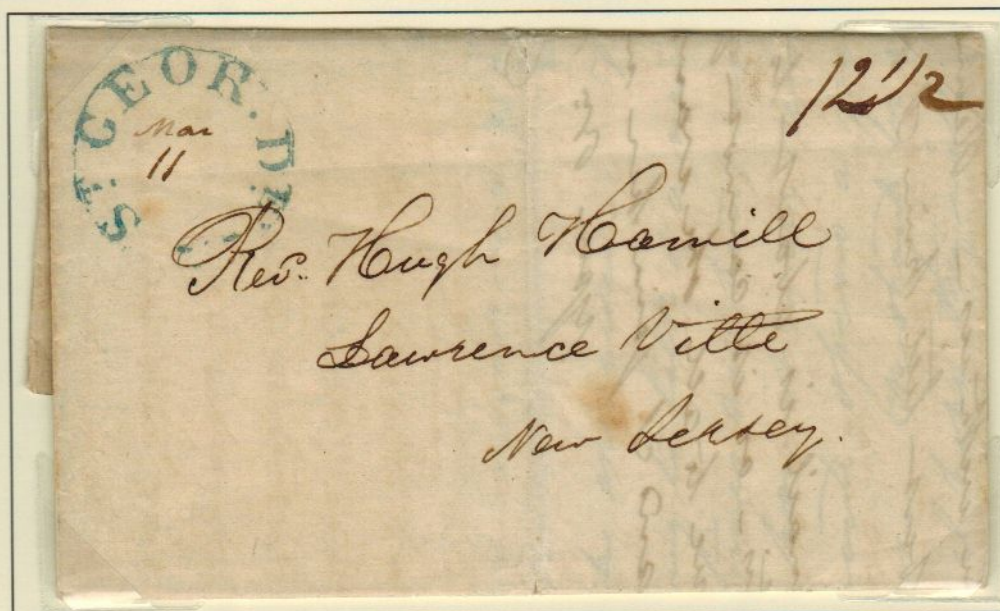

Domestic letter sent from Villiers St. Georges in France, dated 16 July 1842, this cancel was in use from Sept. 1833 to Jan. 1845. Addressed to Mareville, redirected to Marville, and finally to Mereville. The postal rate was 5 decimes (manuscript on front) from 1 Jan. 1828, for weight up to 1/4 ounce (7.5 gr.), and for a distance up to 220 km. 1 decime extra to pay (cancel) for sending the letter from a town without a post office.

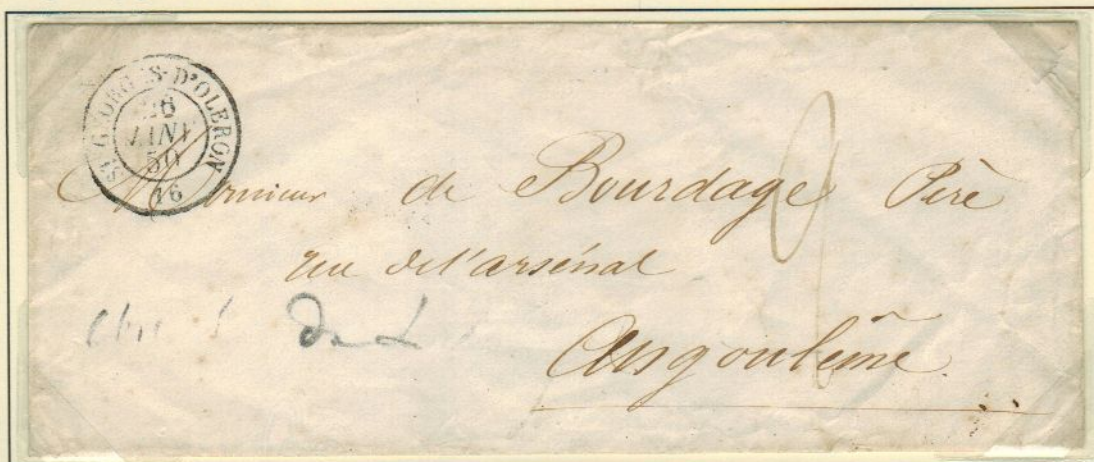

Baden-Powell wrote in "Scouting for Boys" that St. George was typical for what a Scout should be: When he was faced by a difficulty or danger, he did not avoid it, but went at it with all the power that he could. He charged, did his best and finally succeeded in overcoming the difficulty.

Domestic letter posted at a village outside St. Georges-sur-Loire in France. "A" in circle is applied by the rural postman; the cancel "1d" in oval denotes "décime rural", i.e. 1 décime extra to pay for carrying the letter to the nearest post office and there cancelled "ST. GEORGES-SUR-LOIRE 25 JUNE 1838" and sent to Nantes (receiving cancel on reverse). Manuscript "3" is postage, and total postage is 3 décimes + 1 décime = 4 décimes.

Domestic letter from Delaware to New Jersey, cancelled "ST. GEOR. DE." with manuscript date Mar 11 (1843). 12 1/2 cents zone rate for single letters sent 80 to 150 miles, valid from 1816 to 1845.

That is just how a Scout should face a difficulty. He should go at it boldly and confidently, using every power that he can to try to overcome it, and the probability is that he will succeed.

Cover sent from St. Georges - D'Oleron (France) 26 January 1850. The postage rate was 2 décimes (manuscript) for domestic letters weighing up to 1/4 once (7.5 gr.), valid from 1 January 1849 to 1 July 1850.

3.3 ... the community supports Scouting; Royal approval sets an example and governments follow their lead

In many countries, the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides receive valuable support from the Royal family, the President, or from other influential persons who offer patronage for the organisation, or serve in honorary positions. This is a recognition and valuation of Scouting and Guiding, and increases its popularity. Shah Mohammed Riza Pahlavi was Honorary President of the Iranian Boy Scouts. Scouting was supported by the Romanian Royal family, and H.R.H. Prince Nicholas was Chief Scout.

Dr. Stephen H. Smith, Secretary of the Indian Air Mail Society, was a pioneer in rocket mail dispatches, and was responsible for demonstrations of this new method for mail transport. Especially, the ability to effectively spread propaganda was considered important at the time.

Eleven different rocket firings took place at the All India Boy Scouts Jamboree in Delhi and two firings at the Bengal Girl Guide Rally, both in 1937. The Scouts and Guides received first hand experience in transporting messages through the air.

Two rocket firings on March 2, 1937 carried a total of 1,000 Lady Olave Baden-Powell messages.

XIV. BOY SCOUTS
WORLD JAMBOREE

The camps are among the highlights of Scouting. The success of a camp depends on many factors, one of them being careful preparations, and acquiring suitable equipment.

6.1 Careful preparation and robust equipment is a recipe for a good camp

Hiking tents are small and lightweight for carrying.

Page from Norwegian Postal Savings Bank book, deposit stamp and cancel, and withdrawal cancels.

Inverted black colour and imperforate stamp. One sheet of 35 stamps reached the market.

Pyramide-type, or cone-type tents were common in earlier years. Later, tents with saddle roof have dominated for camping tents.

6.1 Careful preparation and robust equipment is a recipe for a good camp, and ...

The tents must be light-weighted, easy to pitch, de-pitch and pack, comfortable, stable in wind, strong and durable.

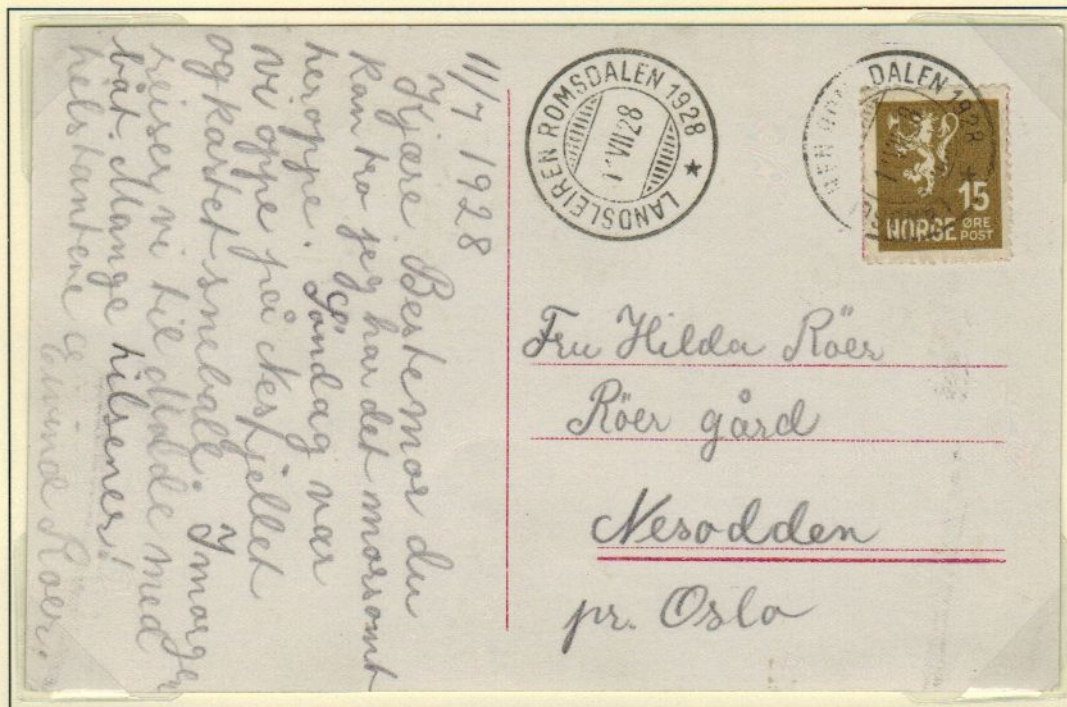

It is difficult to pitch a tent in strong wind!

Only 375 imperforate sheetlets were printed. Lower left stamp with "Bullseye" variety, and dot in "B" in "JAMBOREE".

6.2 ... camping is the joyous part of a Scout's life, but you must know how to do it properly

The camp life demands consideration and thoughtfulness for each other.

Manuscript "H" on registration label denotes Girl Guide camp site "Hørhaven". 3 registered items are recorded.

The tent is small, the food can be unsuccessful, and all of good and bad must be shared. The elder must help the younger. It is important to do to others what you want others to do to you.

6.2 ... camping is the joyous part of a Scout's life, but you must know how to do it properly

From the Boy Scouts' point of view, the camp is a combination of experience of outdoor life in the company of good friends, lots of fun and practical learning, and joyous physical activities.

From the leaders' point of view, the camp is not only a goal, but also a mean in the training of Scouts.

6.2 ... camping is the joyous part of a Scout's life, but you must know how to do it properly

Resident camps are camps at a fixed site with permanent facilities in a natural setting and conducted under trained leadership. This camping form has traditionally been very popular in the U.S.A., where there are many established Scout camps operated by the councils.

The Kanohwahke Scout Camp in Orange, NY was operated 1917-1929 and was the principal Boy Scout camp serving New York City.

The Kanohwahke Lake, NY camp post office was the first of only four seasonal post offices within the boundaries of resident Scout camps in the U.S.A. The camp post office was established in 1925, and was in use through 1929 when the new Ten Mile River Scout Camp became fully operational.

Ten Mile River Scout Camp replaced the Kanohwahke Lake Camp, and is a 48 km<sup>2</sup> camp near Narrowsburg, N.Y., operated since 1928 by the Greater New York Councils of the Boy Scouts of America.

The Ten Mile River, NY camp post office operated 1928-1953, and became a rural substation of Narrowsburg in 1954.

Owasippe Scout Reservation, located in Twin Lake, Michigan is the resident camp operated by the Chicago Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America. It began in 1911 as Camp White and is the United States' oldest and longest continuously operating Boy Scout camp.

The Owasippe, MI camp post office was established 1924, name change to Owasippe 1929, rural of Whitehall from 1955, rural of Twin Lake from 1960 and closed 1984.

Treasure Island is a Boy Scout Camp located between Point Pleasant, Pennsylvania and Frenchtown, New Jersey. The camp is situated on an island in the middle of the Delaware River and owned by the Cradle of Liberty Council.

The Treasure Island, NJ camp post office operated 1931-1953. Postcard with postmark from the first season.

6.2 ... camping is the joyous part of a Scout's life, but you must know how to do it properly

The camp life encourages to independence. The circumstances are rough, and different from those one is used to. Oneself has to provide or construct all arrangements necessary for comfort in camp.

Most people can manage more than they expected, when they have to, and thus obtain self-confidence. This is also experienced by the Scouts in camp.

6.2 ... camping is the joyous part of a Scout's life, but you must know how to do it properly

Scouting in India became quickly very popular, and by 1927 there were more than 100,000 Boy Scouts in India.

Australia's first Pan-Pacific Scout camp was held at Wonga Park, Melbourne in 1948/1949, with participants from many countries.

Only two registered covers are recorded from the 1930 Interscout camp in Liège, Belgium. Most of the Scouts camped a few days only, and few of them used the postal facilities. The post office was situated in a small carpenters' workshop.

The international Scout camp 'Interscout' was a transit camp for visitors attending the exhibitions held in Liège and Antwerp for the 100th anniversary of the independence of Belgium. There were about 800 foreign Scouts plus an unknown number of Belgian Scouts attending the camp on an island on the river Meuse.

Blue postmark colour, code letter "A". Blue colour was used only on 30 July. Franked with complete I. Pax Ting set, total 38f. The domestic registered postcard rate was 60f, thus 22f underfranked and 44f postage due paid.

The true international aspect of the Girl Guide movement was demonstrated at the first Pax Ting (which translates to Peace Parliament) in Hungary, 1939. In a world close to outbreak of war, but inspired by hope and confidence, 4,000 girls of 32 nationalities assembled at Gödöllő near Budapest.

Black postmark colour, code letter "A" on local registered card (2f overfranked for the 26f rate). The postmark can be found in black and blue colours, with code letters "A" through "F", and without code letter.

The Pax Ting was a trial to start the Girl Guides' parallel to the boys' World Scout Jamborees. This was the only Pax Ting ever to be organised, but later on many other international Girl Guide camps have taken place.

The greatest and most widely known event within the Scout Movement is the World Scout Jamboree. Every four years, thousands of Scouts from all over the world come together to an international camp.

A camp like the World Jamborees requires several years of planning. In addition to the on-site preparations, one also needs to promote participation for leaders and Scouts, both from inland and abroad.

Souvenir folders, containing 16 cards with Dutch stamps of the 1930's, were presented to members of the U.P.U. congress in Buenos Aires, 1939. Card #14 shows the World Scout Jamboree stamps of 1937. There were 133 delegates to the congress.

27,100 participants joined in at the 1937 World Scout Jamboree in Vogelenzang, the Netherlands. This was the last World Jamboree that Baden-Powell visited, at an age of 80.

1937 World Scout Jamboree postage stamp on air crash cover. K.L.M.'s DC 2 "Flamingo" caught fire and crashed shortly after take-off from Brussels on 28 July, 1937. The 15 people on board were killed in the accident. 5 kg mail for France was recovered, and this badly charred letter from Breda, the Netherlands to Pontoise, France was forwarded in an ambulance envelope.

From Baden-Powell's farewell speech at the 1937 World Scout Jamboree: "We have come to the end of our Jamboree. During these few short days I am very glad that all of you Scouts gathered from all parts of the world have been making the most of your opportunities to make friends. After all – that was the main object of the Jamboree..."

Ship wreck mail - postcard sent from the 1937 World Scout Jamboree. The Dutch motor vessel "Kota Agoeng" on her way from Holland to the Dutch East Indies caught fire en route. She managed to continue to Colombo where the fire was extinguished. About 400 bags of mail originating from Austria, France, the Netherlands and Switzerland were partially burnt or damaged by the water used to extinguish the fire. Most of the mail involved was forwarded on receipt in the Netherlands Indies bearing an excuse label.

Two imperforate registration sheets of 120 stamps were kept by the Post Office Archives.
Only 10 sets are believed to have been sold. Cancel "N / P / IMPRIMATUR" on reverse.

Preserved in a natural state Sutton Park comprised 2,400 acres of woods, heathland and lakes, and a sanctuary for wild life, yet located only 8 miles from Birmingham.

Specially built Vacumatic stamp affixing machines were used for preparing first day covers, and stamps for use on FDC's were made up in rolls of 4,800. Special testing labels were prepared consisting of horizontal pairs of the 'poached egg' labels, inscribed 'For Testing Purposes Only' and imperforate between. Approximately 10 covers were produced with the testing labels.

Parcel Post label.

The Jamboree Branch Post Office was known as Sutton Coldfield 'J'.

Certificate of Posting for a registered letter, of which 1,096 were sent.
The eight circular date-stamps of skeleton type were used for savings, postal and money orders, registered mail, parcel receipts, etc.

In addition to the Boy Scouts at the Jubilee Jamboree, two other gatherings were taking place simultaneously in Sutton Park. These were the Moot for Rover Scouts and the Indaba for 5,000 leaders.

Publicity slogans were used in stamp cancelling machines at about 30 of the larger G.P.O. sorting offices between 1st and 31st July 1957. For use on printed matter with reduced rate, the town and date slugs were replaced by a triangular die with a number representing the post office. '75' is Birmingham.

A parcel post handstamp was used throughout the Jamboree on parcel mail posted at the Branch Office.

8.3 ... World Rover Moots – older Scouts find ways of providing service

Underpaid (postage due) postcard from Manchester, England to the Rover Moot at Kandersteg, Switzerland 1931.

A Rover Moot is a gathering of Rovers, the elder section of the Scout Movement. The Rover Scouts' Motto, "Service", takes a central place at the Rover Moots.

Registered air mail cover to Poste Restante Sofia, Bulgaria. Not claimed, and returned to Stockholm.

The locations for World Rover Moots are alternating between the countries. Switzerland has, however, hosted the World Rover Moot at Kandersteg in 1931, 1953, and finally in 1992. World Rover Moots took place in Sweden in 1935 and again in 1996.

8.3 ... World Rover Moots – older Scouts find ways of providing service

The objectives of Rovering are to: Provide service to the Scout Movement; Provide service to the community: Develop as individuals by expanding one's range of skills; and Enjoy fellowship, social, outdoor, and cultural activities. This last objective is at its peak at a World Rover Moot.

Express letter, 25 øre postage for letters to Sweden up to 20 gr., and 50 øre express fee, valid from 1 Oct 1946 to 1 Oct 1951.

Unlike World Scout Jamborees, which are held every four years, there are no fixed intervals for World Rover Moots.

8.4 Postlude – A Plea for the Future: The next 100 years – Scouting deserves your support

Since its start in 1907, Scouting has sought harmony with others and with nature. It aims at personal growth and respect for others. Scouting offers no material gain, but a sense of responsibility and respect, a lifestyle which blends with our nature, and ways to achieve all these goals.

This unique youth movement, with its voluntary world approach and inherent desire to serve, continuously need all possible support; moral support, financial support, and, for adults, a chance to help young people.

Master proof of the frame only. Two copies are believed to exist.

Scouting needs your support!
